ABSTRACT
The Iraqi economy is not isolated from the international economic Crises. The fall of the price of crude oil is one of the negative influences of this crisis.

The revenue of the oil exports constitutes an important element in the GDP of Iraq and the major element of its annual budget. Thus the Iraqi economy is suffering from the international economic crises.